Dear Mr. Butler,

In the past several weeks I have watched, with great interest, the trial of Wesley O. General Motors.
I have been so moved. Your passion and humanity was truly inspiring.

I have tremendous respect for your courage in forcing General Motors to be answerable for their actions. But more than that, your unflinching decency, as something I will not forget.

Last night as I tucked my children into bed, I couldn't help feeling that their world was a bit safer, because of men like you.

Very truly yours,
Joanne McDaniel
